WEBSITE RESOURCE NOTICE

Download Use Disclaimer & Sharing Terms

Plain-English use terms for free Miller Bookkeeping & Tax resource downloads.

Educational Use Only

The resources provided by Miller Bookkeeping & Tax are for general educational and organizational purposes. They are not legal, tax, payroll, accounting, HR, financial, or compliance advice for any specific person, business, location, or situation.

No Professional Relationship Created

Downloading, reading, sharing, or using these materials does not create a client relationship, accountant-client relationship, tax professional relationship, payroll service relationship, consulting engagement, or confidential advisory relationship with Miller Bookkeeping & Tax or Emerald Executive Consulting.

Rules Can Vary

Tax, payroll, bookkeeping, HR, business registration, contractor, employee, sales tax, and recordkeeping requirements can vary by facts, business structure, industry, state, locality, and year. Users should confirm requirements with qualified professionals and applicable agencies before making decisions.

Permission To Share

Clients, future clients, bookkeepers, tax preparers, accountants, and advisors may share these free resources with others for educational use, provided the materials are shared in their complete form with Miller Bookkeeping & Tax branding, contact information, copyright notice, and disclaimers intact.

Not Permitted

- Do not sell these free resources as your own product.
- Do not remove or replace Miller Bookkeeping & Tax branding.
- Do not rebrand, copy, scrape, or republish the materials as your own original work.
- Do not present the materials as legal, tax, payroll, HR, or compliance advice customized to a specific client unless you have independently reviewed and adapted them under your own professional responsibility.

Accuracy And Updates

Miller Bookkeeping & Tax works to provide practical and useful resources, but materials may become outdated or may not apply to every situation. Users are responsible for verifying current requirements and applying professional judgment.
